Blog is ran by 2 different people.
It's here to show Choco's actions as well as their friends actions and debunk how wrong they are.

Admin 1 is Angel (She/They)
Admin 2 is Sun (Xe/They)

Asks are open. We will remove asks we don't like.
Both admins are previous victims of Dirt/Choco who don't want to see their actions continue onto others.

If you want that argument, isn't it weird how Dirt comes out with the exact same concept that's suspiciously identically patterned as Dew's a couple days after Dew makes theirs?

Oh, it's also weird how Dirt comes with the same moodboards that are crafted with the exact same reference points as Dew's designs too. But I guess that's just "coincidence" and when Dewdrop does seemingly the exact same thing it's "suspicious" huh.

So can you send me a picture of exactly where Dirt had colorpicked from the moodboard she herself used or are you gonna continue to hide behind anonymity and bitch about pictures in a grid like a baby?

Color picking is an aspect of theft inside of a design.
If it isn't then I guess dew hasn't stolen from Dirt, considering Dirt's entire recent argument is colorpicking.

How do you know it was dirt's moodboard that was even used if Dewdrop never showed what moodboard they used to create the design? Are you just guessing and hoping you're correct?

Dirt has copied Dew's moodboard's already to begin with. It's fucking pictures in a grid. Not really something you can steal. The overall design aspect is mimicked inside of Dirt's design and you can very clearly see she may have colorpicked to create it, which CAN be stolen.

I believe Dirt might have referenced and colorpicked from Dewdrop again to make her most recent design. I currently don't have my software to check this so I will update this when I have the chance or when Angel gets home.

Dirt always does this as a coping mechanism for being called out. She has been referencing her designs from Dewdrop but then whines when Dewdrop does it back. Circus act at it's finest.

> Sorry if this bursts your bubble but even if other people are being shitty, 99% of the people watching this drama and sending you asks have had bad interactions with Kenji 1 on 1 which is why they don't like him.
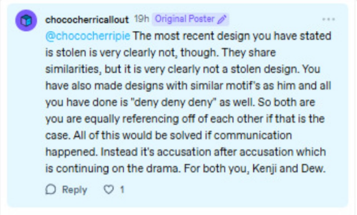
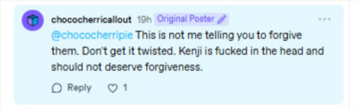
> Most of the people who still watch his drama from afar only know Kenji because he's stolen from them or harassed them at some point. It's not a "Hate mob boohoo everyone is mean to me" it's people who know who Kenji is, they don't like him because of his own actions, and are sick of seeing him repeating the same routine since 2018 and then posting an "apology" every time he gets caught for something.

I apologise but I have never asked anyone to like Kenji. I have actually told people, specifically Dirt, that she should never forgive Kenji because he is a shitty person. The entire point of this account is to call out Dirt/Kona for her shitty actions while proving that multiple people, including those involved in the situation, are lying through their teeth and systematically bullying someone who is doing nothing as of currently.



chococherricallout 19h Original Poster

@chococherripie The most recent design you have stated is stolen is very clearly not, though. They share similarities, but it is very clearly not a stolen design. You have also made designs with similar motif's as him and all you have done is "deny deny deny" as well. So both are you are equally referencing off of each other if that is the case. All of this would be solved if communication happened. Instead it's accusation after accusation which is continuing on the drama. For both you, Kenji and Dew.



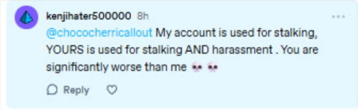
chococherricallout 19h Original Poster

@chococherripie This is not me telling you to forgive them. Don't get it twisted. Kenji is fucked in the head and should not deserve forgiveness.

I understand what Kenji has done is shitty, disgusting and he should not be forgiven. You can do the grown up thing called 'block, report, move the fuck on.' This is the internet. There are groomers, pedophiles and people who are a whole lot worse than Kenji. Yet we are hung up on someone who was an online troll, harassed and stole designs for a living. When I look into the old drama, it is VERY 50/50. "Someone did something so I did it back." People tell me "look into what he has done!"

I did. Kona's friend Fritter stole from Kenji and drew his OC's sexually. Kenji stole from her back, for example.
While yes, I know he has stolen designs from innocent people and i know he is disgusting for doing this, the main reason people are claiming he is disgusting is quite frankly nonexistant. The bulk of the drama which people are using to claim he is bad, has also been done by the side claiming he is bad. It's people calling out Kenji for the exact stuff they have done to him. Only reason Kenji is hated more is because one side has a fatter mouth than the other. There is genuine concern for what Kenjidocument, Fritter, Kona, Fae and others have done to him, especially since one side went out of their way to find old, pre-transition child pictures of Kenji to post online which is not okay behaviour for a "callout blog that does not wish to harass Kenji" to present.

I have also been told by people that their account is made specifically to stalk Kenji and his actions and yet you still believe these people are innocent and have zero part in harassment towards Kenji?



kenjihater500000 8h

@chococherricallout My account is used for stalking, YOURS is used for stalking AND harassment . You are significantly worse than me 💀 💀

If my account is "stalking and harassment" then how is KenjiDocument's, AdrienneTheEdge, Kona and so many more accounts "not harassment"? The logic inside of arguments to continue this drama is flawed and quite honestly pathetic.
Everybody here is an adult capable of rational thinking that has turned around and basically ganged up on someone who is currently doing nothing. I understood previously, when he was actively doing something harmful to those around him. As of recent he is doing nothing actively provable and saying "I can tell by his text" isn't provable either, considering we all thought "Dirtpilecalloutz" was Kenji when it was actually Fae.

TLDR: You don't have to like Kenji. Making callout accounts as well as shit talking him consistently on your accounts for no reason IS continuing the drama, as much as you want to disagree with me, and the only way this drama will stop is if all sides shut the fuck up and actually learn to block, report and move on like ADULTS should. Everybody in this situation is acting like a child and that is how it has continued for so long.

When they cry is such a disgusting anime. From the clips I saw, it includes a bunch of children getting slaughtered and brutally murdered by an insane adult because she's in some fucked up cult and is in love with a boy. It's so weird.

Why the fuck should I show myself to prove shit to you? What do you want? Proof he block evaded? Proof he continued stealing from other users beyond his EclipseAdopts account? That's all on deviantart and it's public.

Ah the age old "you have to go search for the evidence like a final fantasy fetch quest".
What am I, playing your minigames? I don't have time for this. If you want to show evidence of Kenji's wrongdoing you search for it inside of your own time and then present the evidence to me. I shouldn't have to fetch cheese and wine for you.

"I'm speaking on behalf-" Nah. You spoke about your own experience and are cowering behind "Anonymous asked" as a crutch to shittalk somebody. If you have an experience with Kenji and have evidence he is still doing stuff, dated after his public apology, then you can send the evidence to me. If you have no evidence and are here just to bitch behind an anon username then take your ass elsewhere. Thankyou.

> him block evading me, and accusing me of 'stalking him for years'. My mutuals never got an apology from him from stealing their designs.

He did actively put out an apology. It was accepted by Dirt, not accepted by others. He is seemingly not currently doing anything of issue, so why do you specifically need an apology? "Oh well I didn't get one so his apology don't count" sounds very childish and immature.

Also who even are you? You are anonymous but expecting that I should know exactly who you are, what he has done to you and why he should apologise to you??

AFTER A LIFETIME OF BEING THE UGLY DUCKLING, AND DRUNK WITH EGO FROM FINALLY BEING CUTE, RINGO HAS A BIT OF A HIMEDERE COMPLEX- BUT WITHOUT ANY OF THE ELEGANCE OR GRACE. IN FACT, SHES QUITE FOUL-MOUTHED, CLUMSY, AND QUIRKY.

BUT STILL, HER ADORABLE APPERANCE OFTEN LETS HER GET AWAY WITH HER WEIRD INTERESTS AND BEHAVIORS.

HOWEVER, DESPITE HER UNCOUTH TENDENCIES, SHE'S A GREAT FRIEND. RINGO IS KIND, GIVING, AND FIERCELY LOYAL.

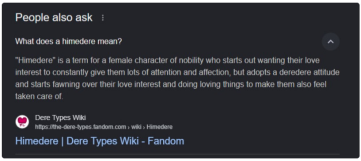
Even calls herself a "Himedere" which is a japanese word.



People also ask

What does a himedere mean?

"Himedere" is a term for a female character of nobility who starts out wanting their love interest to constantly give them lots of attention and affection, but adopts a deredere attitude and starts fawning over their love interest and doing loving things to make them also feel taken care of.

Here's the "faves" that she lusts over which are again 16-17 years old.

"Saya no Uta" which is part of her "favourite games" list also includes sexual assault of a minor.

Key Themes & Elements

- Cosmic Horror: Explores humanity's insignificance and the horror of the unknown, drawing from Lovecraftian influences.
- Subjectivity of Beauty: Questions what defines beauty and monstrosity through Fuminori's altered senses.
- Atmosphere: Known for its haunting soundtrack and immersive, disturbing mood.
- Content Warning: Contains graphic violence, body horror, sexual assault, and intense psychological trauma, with uncensored versions containing extreme content.

Oh and "When they cry" includes the torturing of a minor (like a little child) and also includes same minor getting her fingernames ripped off...

"Ringo" is also a japanese name:

Yes, Ringo (リンゴ) is a Japanese name, meaning "apple," used for both boys and girls, symbolizing youth and beauty, though it's globally famous due to Ringo Starr (Richard Starkey) of The Beatles, who adopted the name. While Westerners often link it to the musician, it's a traditional Japanese word for the fruit.

- Meaning: "Apple" in Japanese.
- Origin: Japanese, with usage dating back to the Edo period.
- Usage: Used for both genders, often given to girls to convey youthful charm.

(WATCH IF YOU WANT)
Here is "when they cry". The scene is an adult strangling a minor and stomping her head/body down into the toilet:
